Board Certified Life Coach
Divorce Recovery Coaching

Diane is a Board Certified Life Coach with a passion for helping women who are going through or have gone through a divorce, and especially those who have been verbally, emotionally or physically abused.

After staying in an abusive marriage for a very long time, Diane finally got the courage to leave the marriage in 2006. Her healing process started by participating in a Divorce Recovery support group at North Point Community Church in Alpharetta, GA. After completing this program, God put it on her heart to give back by leading other divorce recovery groups for the next 5 years.

Diane believes women must first see their self-worth as a princess in God's Kingdom in their journey to healing and before they can enter into a healthy fulfilling relationship with a man. After doing the work to heal and relying on the strength of the Holy Spirit, we can then enjoy the kind of relationship God intended for us to experience.

Diane recently remarried and is blessed with her new husband Mike. They reside in Alpharetta. She continues to serve at North Point Community Church and enjoys spending time with friends, her small group and her two grown children.

Diane became a member of the 8:28 Women's coaching network in 2013.
