PERSONAL STORY 60 Minutes

This is the story of Allison Miller's rescue and victory. Through her raw style and personal story, she connects the listener to the lies we tell ourselves, the secrets we bury deep in our hearts and then reveals the healing freedom that can be gained through an intimate relationship with Jesus Christ. Nearly every person has secrets that they are afraid to share for fear of judgment. Through her message, the listener will understand how sharing secrets with safe people in close community can create greater freedom and new directions, even if circumstances remain the same.
